Hard reality #1

Most people want to hire developers with experience, and you don't have any of that.

DARN.

Hard reality #2

Freelancing is hard.

So, you wanna freelance?

You'll need a few things:

- Website
- Contract template
- Invoice template

Your toolbox

For communicating with clients

For tracking your hours/
money and invoicing

For building some kickass contracts so ya
don't get screwed

For showing clients
project scope

Statement of Work for Canadians for Clean Prosperity

Created on 09/12/2015

Client signature: _____ Date: _____

Below details the logistics behind the redesign and development of cleanprosperity.ca. After deliverables & timeline are agreed upon, work will begin on mocking up the designs of the requested page types. After the design mockups are approved, work will begin on developing this design in NationBuilder, the Client's content management system of choice. The new website theme can be fully functional within three weeks of the work beginning if the Client gives necessary feedback within two days of the Client receiving the design mockups and initial iteration of the live NationBuilder site.

Hey there! I'm Tara. I'm a web designer & developer in Toronto, Ontario.

I just finished giving a talk at Bitmaker Labs about being a freelancer and working on the Justin Trudeau campaign as a front-end web developer.

If you think you might like to work together, check out some more of my work here.

Composing Coder

Email Me

I'm probably the only French and Croatian-speaking screen music composer turned coder that you'll meet today. One could say I code music and I code code. One could... but one could also say that I'm a hard working individual with a positive attitude who has a newfound passion for web development and coding. If I'm not coding, I'm watching great films and writing music.

Some rules

A photograph of a woman with dark hair tied back, wearing a white sailor-style top with the number '12' on it, white shorts, and a white sailor's cap. She is standing on a stage, singing into a vintage-style microphone. Behind her is a green wall with various items: a circular vent at the top left; two small potted plants on circular stands; a framed picture of a lighthouse; a small shelf with a potted plant and a small statue; and a tall, thin decorative object on the right. The bottom half of the image features large, bold, white text with a black outline.
